350 NOW GETTING GARBAGE SERVICE; TO BETTER SYSTEM

More on garbage. City authorities are trying to get collections down to a system. Money by the city would be much money. Last week receipts totaled $30 while labor alone cost the city $47.30.

Those who have asked to have their garbage collected but who have not received the service are asked to notify the city clerk, so their names may be placed on the new lists.

The plan is to have the city worry along on the work through the present year, then with the drawing up of this fall of the budget for 1921 provision can be made for a more comprehensive system of garbage collection.

SCHOOLS OPEN IN TWO WEEKS; RUSH ALL REPAIR JOBS

If there was anything to mar circus day yesterday for the "kids" here, it was the fact that two weeks from then they would be in school.

School let out June 18, while high school practically closed the week and a half before that. During the summer, the juniors of the high school and painters have been working constantly redecorating the buildings. The assembly room and a few of the class rooms were completely redecorated, and the whole building has been disinfected.

The Adams Grant Webster have been completely redecorated and the Jackson is undergoing the process now and will be done when the school starts. Other schools have been repaired only where absolutely necessary.

THE DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

AT THE END OF A PERFECT DAY

The rest of the day passed like a dream to me; it was all so new, so wonderful, and there were so many people to watch and everything. I had the time of my life. The trip down the bay and out into the ocean was too beautiful for words, the sun shone so warmly, and everyone was in holiday mood. We sat up on the deck, and never moved from there until six o'clock so entrancing was the scene before us.

We had been sailing for about an hour or so, when suddenly saw and then heard an airplane off in the distance. Breathless, we watched its graceful gyrations, and the speed with which it flew had us all looking down at the exhibition. For some time the airplane commenced to circle about, getting nearer and nearer to the water; and then, three hundred feet or so, it swooped over towards our ship, and we caught a glimpse of its pilot, waving and smiling down at us. Then he circled around "The Starboard," and then held a huge bunch of American Beauty roses, and threw them overboard. The roses fell into the sea. Every one gave a gasp as they missed, and a few minutes afterwards I saw that white, back again, and we saw that it was no other person than Charlie Chaplin at the wheel. He had attempted to serenade Mary and Doug, and to this minute I have ever witnessed, and to this minute I thrill at the thought of it all.

Mary and Doug retired soon after this incident, and kept to their chairs in a quiet way for the rest of the evening. They seemed to be rather tired as though they had been rushing around a good deal before sailing. They seemed very happy, though. Mother and I went to our cabin shortly after six o'clock and dressed for dinner.

There were any number of pretty girls on board, and plenty of eligible-looking young men, but of course I am not interested in the latter. Jack's solitaire and his signet ring keep my thoughts busy, and mother and Aunt Cecelia, now a little bit quiet, take up the rest of the time. As soon as dinner was over we went up on deck again and walked around and watched the sunset, which was gorgeous. Then we went inside and looked about us and tried to get a close-up of all and any celebrities in our midst, and there were spry and hopeful; Louis Brandeis, and heaven only knows how many more.

We ribbored to our hearts' content, and then decided that we were tired enough to retire for the night and did so. Hence this present entry in my little book.

Mother is already fast asleep, but I am wide awake, really, and he-bearable. Do not marry before you are twenty. That is plenty young enough. You may think you have trouble when single, but that is nothing compared to married trouble. I try to be agreeable and make home life pleasant, but get so discouraged. My husband is kind to neighbors and has a lot of friends. He has a different disposition outside of home. I am disgusted with such a life. What can I do? It is degrading to live with such a person.

Now, you should not bring your baby up in such a home if you can help it. You are too young to sacrifice yourself to a home where you are not honored. I firmly believe that your husband will value you if he loses you. If you have parents to go to, make them a visit and tell your husband that when he is ready to treat you with respect and kindness he can come for you. Say that you have had enough of his swagging and abuse.

You ask if the majority of men are brutes. That would be a pretty harsh verdict to mankind. Try to keep faith in the goodness of man, so that the brute you now see is only a demon who has entered a good man for the time being and will disappear. Of course you will have to insist upon decency, or the demon will grow larger and more and more unbearable.

I believe that your husband will love you and the baby too much to continue in the way he is living now.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Meat and Vegetable Rolls—Take large cabbage leaves (about 8) and cover with boiling water until soft enough to roll easily. Have one-half cup rice well washed and one pound of round steak ground and seasoned with salt and pepper. Add one egg to meat. If desired, but when eggs are high it may be dispensed with. Put some meat and a spoon of rice in each cabbage leaf, fold ends over, roll and fasten with a toothpick or string, place on a rack in kettle or they will stick to the bottom. Cook slowly in water for one hour, having water nearly all cooked away at end of that time. Strain and season a pint of tomato sauce, pour over rolls, cook a little longer and serve, first removing toothpicks or string. Very good, and not as much trouble to fix as the recipe may sound.

Head Lettuce With Cooked Dressing—One head of lettuce weighing less than a pound will serve four, and with home-made dressing is as well liked as some of the more elaborate salads. Dressing is made as follows: One egg well beaten, one teaspoon of oil, one-half cup of vinegar, one-half cup of milk, salt, one tablespoon of sugar, or more to make a sweet dressing. Mustard may be added. Cook until it thickens, stirring constantly to prevent lumps. If too thick when cool thin with milk or cream. Will keep quite a while in a cool place.

Sponge Cake—One and a half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one cup sugar, two eggs broken in a cup and the cup filled with milk. Mix all together in a mixing bowl, beat hard for five minutes and bake about 10 or 15 minutes in muffin pans or a large pan with a chimney.

EAT MORE GREENS

Poached Eggs on Spinach—Three cups chopped spinach, one cup milk, white sauce, salt and pepper to season, four to six poached eggs. Grated cheese if desired.

Mix spinach and white sauce and heat very hot. Put in a deep dish the top and make four to six indentations on spinach, place an egg in each hollow, pour white sauce, salt, pepper and a little grated cheese and stand in oven for a few minutes to melt cheese. Serve very hot.

Egg and Spinach Salad—Two cups frost spinach, salt, pepper to season, two tablespoons melted butter, four hard boiled eggs. Mayonnaise dressing. Clean spinach and steam until tender. Drain thoroughly and chop very fine. Season with salt, pepper and melted butter. Mix well and press into small cups or molds and

Season's Fad If White Muslin Combined With Dark Taffeta

By ELOISE

Early spring saw the advent of a fact which we were wont to laugh at, but the advancing days of summer have made us accept as usual and now we even herald the fad as practical and attractive. It is the material of combining muslin, linen and organza in white and light colors with dark taffeta. It is really a most economical find and if the makers of combining muslin and taffeta had it they have here a most fashionable way of using that old dark silk frock and skirt and that, or those as the case may be, old graduation frocks of the girls which were never worn more than a dozen times. With such an entire different disposition outside of home, I am disgusted with such a life. What can I do? It is degrading to live with such a person.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

For nineteen years Miss Jean Hamilton has been general secretary of the National League of Women Workers, and in that time she has seen the organization grow from a membership of 4,000 to 25,000. She has seen the clubs change from groups of a hundred or so to clubs of several thousand. But more interesting even than that has been the growth in the girls themselves.

The training of girl executives for business houses has been in a way accidental, explained Miss Hamilton. "The girls do whatever they can for the club to make it more interesting for themselves and more attractive to new members without thinking that through this work they are fitting themselves for bigger responsibilities in their jobs. They are purely for recreation and study, and they go into them with just one idea—to band together to have a good time."

When I began with the National League of Women Workers, girls were hardly ready to organize. They were diffident and needed a strong guiding hand to help them. They were capable of self-government only after someone had taught them how to be. But today the girls have grown efficient in organization. Initiative and organization sense are shown nowadays in the first mass meeting called to consider a club, though the idea has come a brand new. It is a part of the movement among women to work more and more in groups.

The National League of Women Workers has been in existence for over thirty-five years. Clubs have sprung up spontaneously all over the eastern states and applied for membership in the league, for the idea of self-governing and self-supporting clubs for working girls is unique. In some of the younger clubs the program consists mainly of evening classes and parties but the older ones that have obtained permanent homes offer a place to live for the girl who works far from home and a gathering place for all its members outside of working hours. The clubs in each state maintain vacation homes where the girls can go at little expense and they can even take their friends who are not in the league.

The league is divided into six state leagues, each of which maintains a summer resort where its members can spend their vacations at a moderate cost. The outstanding feature of their national program is a biennial meeting at some college, where the girls from all the clubs have an opportunity to get acquainted and exchange ideas.

WINTON SIX HERE THIS WEEK-END TO PLAY SAMSON CLUB

Samson Tractor ball club has booked the Winton Six aggregation of Chicago, to appear here next Saturday and Sunday at the fair grounds. This club is one of the best industrial combinations of the Chicago wheel. It promises to give the fans a couple of hot battles to watch.

The Samsons showed old time form in their week-end games with the Fairies. Pitcher Demont was back in shape losing Saturday's game, 3 to 0, only through misfortune in errors and the break of the bat. The team as a whole, played first rate ball in every department.

With Manager Ferring back in the lineup Sunday and quite likely for good now, unless he meets again with misfortune and his legs go back, the team pulled together in great fashion in Saturday's contest. Confidence instilled into the bunch when Ferring gets down on third sack. They play the game for all it is worth.

Quite probably, Wolfe, the new Samson infielder, will be in a Sunday uniform Saturday and Sunday. It is sure to be possible that a switch will be shifted over to third and Wolfe cover short.

For the fourth time, the Red Sox trounced the Indians by winning Tuesday, 7 to 2. Bush kept Cleveland's hitters out for the first time. The final game of the series was won by the Tigers from the Yankees, 5 to 2.

Three of Stawley's passes in the first and third innings were turned into runs. National League.

Bunching 11 hits off Fillingim, Chicago nosed out Boston 3 to 2. Deal's double and Herzog's single in the ninth with one out produced the winning run.

The Dodgers dropped once more to the Pirates, this time 4 to 3. Carlson was hit hard by the double play. THE women should certainly be thankful for the automobile. It has given them a chance to see a lot more of their husbands.

they're beginning to insist on knowing what they are getting.

And the more they insist, the better it will be for us.

But it has done a great deal more than that.

We want our customers to know what they are getting.

It has brought people closer together, given them new interests, swept away old prejudices.

That's why we represent U. S. Tires—so there will be no doubt about it.

What affects one man now generally affects a good many of his neighbors in the same way. And they have a better chance to get together and talk things over.

Whatever the size of your car, you know that the U. S. Tire you put on it is the best kind of tire its makers know how to make.

It's had its effect on the tire business.

U. S. Tires are guaranteed for life, without any limitation of mileage.

When automobiles were new people were willing to buy any kind of a tire. Now

That ought to mean something to the man who has thought about tires.
